Proposed Waterworks Bonds Are Sold; Many Bids Were Received

As to the Citizens' Alliance

Since the publication, a few days ago, of the agreement of the business men to organize the Citizens' Alliance, there has been much discussion of the matter, pro and con, and it is evident that there is more or less misunderstanding about the whole matter.

This misunderstanding does not only exist among the working men who seem to think that the whole movement is antagonistic to them, but many of the business men themselves seem to have fallen into the error of letting misstatements in regard to it go unchallenged.

After several thorough readings of the document, and after sounding the leading business men on the question, we are convinced that the intentions and purposes of the organization is not what they are reputed to be by those who seem to be aggrieved.

It is as clear to us as the noonday sun that the business men of this city have nothing in view but the city's perpetuity and well being; they advocate nothing, so far as we can see, that any fair-minded man can object to.

They do not believe in a closed shop town, and they are entitled to their belief, just as much as the farmer, carpenter, painter, printer or any other craftsman is entitled to his.

They stand for the right to conduct their individual businesses as seems best to them, that right meaning that they are to employ both union and non-union men if they see fit.

They are opposed to boycotting a man in the right to earn wages any living because he DOES NOT belong to a union, just as they are opposed to boycotting the man WHO BELONGS to the union in his right to do the same thing.

In other words, they are in favor of liberty rather than dictation and tyranny and they declare themselves in favor of extending that liberty to every free born citizen, whether he happens to belong to some organization or not.

As an example: A man may belong to the Masonic order, but certainly he wouldn't discriminate against a man who didn't happen to belong to that order. You might be a Woodman, but if you are a good Woodman you wouldn't think of refusing to employ a good man simply because he didn't happen to belong to that order.

What the business men of Ada want, as we see it, is to avoid the closed shop; to avoid the strife and turmoil that has always attended closed shop towns throughout the whole country, and to continue their business in the same free and unhampered manner that has brought to them the success which they have already attained.

They believe in every man getting all he can justly earn, and they pledge themselves to protect him in so doing, union or not, so long as he obeys the law and conducts himself as a good citizen.

Frankly, how can any element of citizenship that is organized justify themselves in a fight against organization on the part of another element?

The fact is, the whole matter is a tempest in a teapot, and all that is needed to straighten it out and forget it is for every man to grant every other man the same liberties that he takes for himself. A practical application of the golden rule will settle the whole matter, and a man who isn't willing to practice that rule isn't worth courting anyway.

OIL EXCITEMENT HIGH IN NEW MEX.

DRILLING ALL OVER EASTERN PART OF STATE LOOKS LIKE ANOTHER TEX-AS BOOM.

By News' Special Service

PORTALES, N. M., Aug. 13.—The New Mexico oil excitement seems to be spreading fast. Practically all of the eastern part of the state has been leased and dozens of companies are rushing derricks and tools in order to start drilling. The big companies are taking hold which is significant as these interests generally let the independent operators do the pioneer work before they start spending much money.

The Carter Oil Company is erecting two standard rigs near Carlsbad, about fifty miles from the Texas line. They are going down 4000 feet. Some Oklahoma men are also preparing to drill near Carlsbad.

A Canadian company backed by Vancouver, British Columbia, people will start operations at Roswell. Another well will be drilled near Tucumcari by a crowd of Texas and New Mexico men. A half-dozen other companies have just been organized and New Mexico will be the scene of some lively development work the next few months. This will all be of interest to Ada residents because of the local men who are now at Portales operating under the name of the Nu-Mex Oil Company. About 20 Ada people will stay on the ground until this well is finished and if there is anything in favorable geological reports, they will come back to Ada with their pockets full of money.

Charles F. Burden and Roy Rains just returned from Portales and state that Roosevelt County is experiencing a regular oil boom. People are flocking in from various parts of the country and the price of leases is advancing fast.

The Nu-Mex people write that their tools are on the way and they will start drilling in a couple of weeks. The event will be celebrated by a barbecue which the inhabitants of the entire surrounding country will attend. There will be games of all kinds, boxing matches, bronco riding, band concerts dancing and everything to make the affair memorable. The Ada crowd are certainly a live bunch and have the best wishes of their friends in Pontotoc county.

Misses Dee Waggoner and Elizabeth Perkins of Ardmore, who have been the guests of Miss Perkins sister, Mrs. R. T. Castleberry, returned home this afternoon.

Mr. Ham challenged any one to prove one incident where a cure has been effected on a malignant disease, and says no Bible student would make the assertions Mr. Quackenbush makes in defense of Mrs. Eddy and her theories.

In speaking of the rapid and enormous growth of Christian Science, Mr. Ham said: "There is nothing to the idea that a great following makes a thing right; for there are 209,659,000 Hindoos; 275,869,000 Buddhists and 386,000,000 Mohammedans and their faith is not so heathenish and damnable as that which Mrs. Eddy has palmed off on a bunch of gullibles."

Mr. Ham cites many incidents where Christian Science has destroyed the happiness of a home and referred to the fact that Mrs. Eddy drove her own children from home because of her faith.

In referring to Clara Barton's comment on Mrs. Eddy's kindness, Mr. Ham challenged anyone to show where one dollar has ever gone to charity through Christian Science believers.

He says Mrs. Eddy quotes from only ten books in the Bible, and eight of these she only touches lightly and bases her entire theory on a small portion of Revelation, and that the entire theory is as clear as mud.

Mr. Quackenbush says it would be better if everyone would expound their own theories instead of spending their time criticizing and misrepresenting the religion of others, and Mr. Ham answers this by referring his hearers to 1 Timothy, 4th chapter and 6th verse.

He says these people have taken Eddyism for their refuge and some day there will be a terrible reckoning among them.

Earl Godwin passed thru the city this morning and visited with friends a few hours while enroute from Oklahoma City to his home at Madril.

"A Sure Refuge" Was Ham's Theme On Last Evening

Enthusiasm characterized the audience last night at the tabernacle. A goodly delegation of business men occupied the middle of the shed in front of the speaker's stand. At a few minutes before 8:15 Rev. Ham led a delegation of boys and young men numbering more than a hundred and fifty into the tabernacle and they were received with a prolonged cheer. Following them came Prof. Ramsay with girls and young women, more than three hundred in number. Ramsay and the girls were received by the audience with clamorous applause as the people stood upon the seats to see the inspiring procession.

During the introductory service Evangelist Ham devoted a few minutes to a reply to Mrs. Eddy as represented by the state department of publicity at Tulsa and the audience greeted his sledge hammer blows with prolonged cheers. He announced his theme for the evening: "Christ, Our Refuge," and read a text from the Scriptures, "Behold a man shall be as a hiding place."

He made a fervent appeal, and we give a brief of the sermon: "Life is as a storm tossed sea and Jesus is the harbor. Life is as a desert of stretching sands with only here and there a spot of green. What the spring does in the desert Jesus does for human life. All men are in need of a refuge. Some select a refuge of lies like Mrs. Eddy and her benighted dupes who claim there is no sin, no death and no hell. They will one day awake to find all of these things stern realities. Others turn to strong drink to drown their cares. Pleasures and amusements are the snares of the devil.

"The world is full of vexing conditions. All must die and after death the judgment. Sin is abroad and should drive men to the man who is a refuge. Every suicide might have been saved had they found this refuge. Other refuge have I none. Jesus is the only true refuge for the storm-tossed bark of life. All men need this refuge. We need a refuge from sorrow and grief. Here and here alone we find it."

"Here is a safe refuge from a lashing conscience and from the injury coming from the darts of sin. Fools only trifle with sin. I will not indulge a lustful thought. Sin has gripped the poor and out in the gutter but it also has many of you respectable chaps by the throat. You had better throw the serpent from you before its poison paralyzes you through and through. The only sure sin is Christ. No human method has ever been found to remove the stain of sin from the human heart. Restrictions may hold people away from sin, but what of the soul that has already sinned? But for Christ that soul will die. Flu is a bad epidemic, but the worst epidemic the world ever saw was s-i-n. Sin laid ten million brave men in cross-marked graves on the battle fields of Europe. Sin fills houses of infamy with armies of scarlet girls and women.

"Man needs a refuge from the devil, even if Mrs. Eddy the blasphemous does claim that there is no devil. If she is correct, then who tempted Jesus? She claims that temptation is sin in the mind. Jesus had no sin in his mind. I have stood on all the great battle fields of the world—and then I have stood where the devil tempted Jesus, and there I felt was the one decisive battle in the world's history.

"Man needs a refuge from death. Both men and Christ dispise death. Whenever Jesus attended a funeral he broke it up with rejoicing. Man also needs a refuge from judgment, and there is only one condition of escape. Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and you shall not be judged. There is no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus. I would not be without this refuge for anything on earth.

"I invite you into the safe place—Jesus Christ the soul's refuge from sorrow, grief, conscience, sin, death, the devil and the judgment to come. Will you come to him now?"

COUNTY HOSPITAL FAVORED
BY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

A county hospital for Pontotoc county will be built in the very near future if the doctors of the county have their way about it. At a meeting of the county medical association in Ada yesterday afternoon the hospital question was taken up and discussed at length. In compliance with a motion unanimously adopted, Dr. L. M. Overton, chairman of the association, appointed a committee of five to take up with the county commissioners the matter of building a hospital and devising ways and means of securing such hospital. The committee consists of Drs. T. A. Hill of Roff, S. N. Ritchie of Francis, I. L. Cummings, W. D. Faust and J. A. Deen, of Ada. The chairman and secretary of the association, Mrs. Overton and Riss, are ex-officio members of the committee.

The legislature at its last session passed a law whereby counties may erect hospitals. The county commissioners may under this law call an election to issue the twenty-five year interest bearing bonds of the county to pay for such hospital, but such election may not be called unless twenty per cent of the qualified voters of the county petition for such an election. If the hospital is established, a board of control consisting of from five to nine members shall be appointed by the county commissioners, the county physician being chairman of the board of control.

The next meeting of the medical fraternity will be held in Ada on the afternoon of the second Tuesday of September. At that meeting papers on medical topics will be read by Drs. Deen, Cummings and Ritchie. The meeting will also be addressed by Dr. Gregory of Oklahoma City, until recently of the Post Hospital at Ft. Sill.

STOLEN JEWELRY IS RETURNED---MYSTERY

That the mills of the gods grind slowly but grind exceedingly fine, is again demonstrated and comes as a result of the Ham-Ramsay meeting. When on yesterday Miss Beatrice Bowlin, who is an employee of the Bell Telephone Company, received thru the mail a package of jewelry, consisting of one diamond ring, one ruby ring, and one gold chain, valued at something like $50.00, which had been taken from her trunk about a year ago when she was rooming at 419 West Thirteenth. A note was enclosed with the jewels which ran like this, "I am sending you your things that I stole from you and I hope you will forgive me, as God will do." The package was addressed in a child-like scrawl, presumably so in order for the handwriting not to be identified. The party who returned the jewels was undoubtedly someone who knew Miss Bowlin, as her name was spelled correctly and also her correct address was given. Miss Bowlin wishes to thank very kindly the one who had the moral courage to return that which was not theirs.

Special Agent Palmer for the M. K. & T. railroad, was in the city yesterday transacting business.

GUARANTY STATE BANK OF ADA FORCES BID THAT SAVES THE CITY AN IMMENSE SUM ON WATERWORKS BONDS.

A good-sized and highly explosive bomb seems to have been exploded among the fifteen or more bond buyers who assembled at the city hall yesterday afternoon when the Guaranty State Bank of Ada, by its president, Clyde C. Randel, filed a bid on a contemplated bond issue. The city commissioners had met to receive bids on a proposed bond issue of $325,000 for the purpose of improving the water and sewerage systems of the city, and something like fifteen buyers from Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Oklahoma City, Tulsa and other cities were present to file their bids.

Some days ago the commissioners informed the bond buying companies of the proposed bond issue and asked for bids on several different kinds of bonds, such as 6 per cent straights, 6 per cent serials, 5 1-2 per cent straights, and 5 1-2 per cent serials. When the bids were opened by the commissioners it was found that all the buyers had bid on the 6 per cent straights, a few had bid on the 6 per cent serials, but only one bid had been offered on the 5 1-2 denominations and that was by the Guaranty State Bank. By one of those accidents, peculiar to high finance, all the out-of-town buyers bid on the denominations that cost the municipality most and pay the buyer the most, at the same time passing up the denomination least desirable to them but by many thousands of dollars most desirable to the city and the tax payers who will finally pay for the bonds.

When the bid of Mr. Randel had been filed and read the visiting buyers became very much excited. They had not anticipated an intruder in their midst. After much consultation they implored the commissioners to ignore all bids submitted, choose what denomination they desired to sell, and then permit additional bids on the denomination selected. This was altogether unfair to Mr. Randel, who had submitted the only bid on the favored denomination, and who, according to all the rules of business, was entitled to the bonds. But the commissioners rightly considered their first duty to be to the public they are serving, and Mr. Randel generously acceding to their view, bids were called for on the 5 1-2 serial denomination.

Once the visitors saw that it would be impossible to get the favored 6's, they began a spirited bidding for the 5 1-2's. Mr. Randel raised his original bid of par, accrued interest, and $550 premium, to par, accrued interest, and $1,500. Robinson & Taylor of Oklahoma City, who had offered $1,114 premium on the 6's and nothing for the 5 1-2's, went to $2,700 and accrued interest for the latter bonds. McMahan got into the game and bid all the way from $1,000 premium up to $2,400 premium. The Exchange Trust company of Tulsa, who did not want the chosen denomination at any price when the first bidding began, now got busy and offered $1,050 and accrued interest, finally raising the cash part of their bid to $2,750, at which figure they got the bonds.

It is doubtful if any bids on the series finally sold ever would have been submitted if Mr. Randel had not been present to make his offer. The visitors seemed to want the 6's and nothing else. The saving to the city in straight interest alone amounts to $40,625, which represents the difference between 6 per cent and 5 1-2 per cent on $325,000 for 25 years. Another tremendous saving results from selling serial bonds instead of the straight bonds. The straight bonds would necessitate paying interest on the entire issue of $325,000 for the full period of 25 years. Under the contract for serial bonds made by the commission 1-20 of the bonds will be retired at the end of five years and 1-20 each year thereafter till all are retired. The total interest paid on $325,000 in twenty-five years at 6 per cent would amount to $487,500. The total interest on $325,000, retiring serially, at 5 1-2 per cent would amount to only $223,430. Thus the total saving to the city resulting from selling 5 1-2 serials instead of 6's will be approximately $264,000.

It was a fortunate thing for Ada that Mr. Randel entered the contest yesterday. The commissioners showed commendable judgment in following the course they did, while the committee from the Chamber of Commerce that has been assisting the commissioners in the matter of the bonds has rendered invaluable aid in many close places. This committee consists of M. R. Chilcutt, A. M. Gregg, M. C. Grigsby, Bill Coffman, and W. L. Whitaker.

Among the bond buyers in the city were Hanchett Bond company of Chicago, Robinson & Taylor of Oklahoma City, Pearsoll company of Oklahoma City, C. Edgar Honnold of Oklahoma City, R. J. Edwards of Oklahoma City, Exchange Trust company of Tulsa, and a number of others.

HAM SCORES CHRISTIAN SCIENCE AT TABERNACLE

At the beginning of the services at the tabernacle last night, Rev. M. F. Ham again paid his respects to Mrs. Eddy and the Christian Science Church by answering the communication published in the News Tuesday.

Mr. Quackenbush had said Mrs. Eddy's work was evident by many testifying to the healing of diseases and the great joy they received through Science.

Mr. Ham challenged any one to prove one incident where a cure has been effected on a malignant disease, and says no Bible student would make the assertions Mr. Quackenbush makes in defense of Mrs. Eddy and her theories.

In speaking of the rapid and enormous growth of Christian Science, Mr. Ham said: "There is nothing to the idea that a great following makes a thing right; for there are 209,659,000 Hindoos; 275,869,000 Buddhists and 386,000,000 Mohammedans and their faith is not so heathenish and damnable as that which Mrs. Eddy has palmed off on a bunch of gullibles."

Former Ada Teacher Startles Wall Street With His Brilliancy and Now a Fugitive from Peace Officers

The following story, clipped from the New York World, concerns J. Frank Lilly, for three years teacher of psychology in the East Central Normal. Lilly came here in 1910 and remained until 1913. He was considered a brilliant teacher, having an insight in psychology that few men have. He was a great student of human nature as he professed.

Lilly left here ostensibly on a leave of absence, but it was reported that he really had been let out. It was reported at the time that his reputation for exaggeration and misrepresentation, together with his failure to meet his financial obligations promptly, was responsible for his leaving Ada.

(Here's a story that appeared in a recent issue of the New York World, of an Oklahoma school teacher who swindled Wall Street out of a sum that ran into millions. Lilly doesn't seem to be well known in Oklahoma—but the tale makes good reading. Here it is:)

In April, 1914, a tall, angular young schoolmaster took an examination before the board of Springfield, Ill., for the position of assistant superintendent of schools. The young man was out of a job and out of funds. He did not want to go back to the classroom. He was done with teaching. It was no life for him. Vaguely he felt stirring in him the mute abilities and forces of a doer. But do what? The only thing in sight was a promotion in his own line. So this tall, restless young man tried desperately to win the appointment and he made a brilliant showing. His grade for the complete work was 90.4, but—

He was second. Someone else got the job.

He Turned to Left.

Worse off than ever, he made an effort to create a place for himself in the summer schools. He was a plausible fellow, a convincing reasoner. The authorities listened to him with gravity. But in the end they wrote that they could do nothing for him. One told him that if his abilities at communicating knowledge were up to his insight and understanding he ought to be a marvel, but—

Unfortunately there was no place for him.

Two roads lay before this man. He could continue along the school teaching groove. He could turn off sharply into an unexplored country. It was no light matter to decide. There was a wife and three young children. There was a complete absence of resources. The man hesitated long, but he was nauseated with the old place. He turned off—to the left.

Lad From Oklahoma.

In the fall of 1914 a tall, angular young man from Oklahoma, a fellow with an open face and a great air of ingenuousness—began making the rounds of Wall Street brokers' offices peddling his talent. This was what he had to say:

He was a student of human nature. He had been a teacher of psychology in a western university. (He gave the name of the University of Chicago, but here he violated the truth.) He knew the minds of men and the workings of the intelligence. He could induce people to do things. He could exert his will over others because he understood the minds. Would Mr. So-and-so employ him and let him prove what he could do? He'd like to show these people how to sell stock.

It took some time to find a broker who was willing to be convinced, but at last he had in sight.

He Makes Success.

Then James Franklin Lilly, formerly of the school room, bloomed forth as a circular and letter writer in Wall Street. The former teacher of psychology was in instant success. His folders and sheets got answers. His letters brought in the checks. He began to progress.

James Franklin Lilly was making as much per week as the western schools had paid him by the month. He was prospering in a way. He had found happiness. He was now moving and creating in a booming world where he could see the foam of his results rising to the surface—and watch others skim it off and take the profit.

But he stuck to his last. Three years he continued to write advertisements, circular letters, stock-selling brochures, letters. Then something happened.

The intimate events, the personal forces which push men over the brink of decision, are always obscure to outsiders—often to the subjects themselves. One thing that must have figured here is not far to seek. Lilly had jumped from the school room into Wall Street and landed on his feet. He might reason that another jump would result likewise. But what caused him to want to leap?

Woman Asked for Money.

From what information is now at hand the situation seems to have been dual. First it appears that Lilly had met a woman. Who she was or is, and what, does not matter. He met her, and he desired her, as men will. And woman, no matter how modest her personal demands, is a costly commodity.

Again, and perhaps as a result of this meeting, Lilly's life at home had struck the troubled waters. A separation agreement, drawn in Brooklyn, and now in the hands of District Attorney Swann, shows that at about this time, the rising financier agreed to let his wife go her way, taking all the children as her absolute property. He also covenanted to pay her $45 a week for the rest her life.

In the fall of 1917 a new brokerage firm appeared in Wall Street, J. Frank Lilly & Co., No. 62 Broadway, fourth floor. The "company" was one F. Kent Scheiner, of whom little is known. The chief was our young Oklahoma schoolmaster, stock literature impresario and master of psychology. Where the money for this plunge into finance was got, is not now known. It seems certain that Lilly brought with him from the brokerage houses where he had worked extensive lists of men and women who bought stocks—a so-called "sucker list." With this to operate with and the man's proved ability LILLY, GAL 2 at getting results, probably no great amount of backing was required.

Success in Leaps.

At any rate, J. Frank—formerly James Franklin—Lilly was shortly made a member of the Consolidated Exchange and his new firm opened and flourished like a rose. Business was good from the start. By the spring of 1919 it is estimated that the concern was trading in as high as 15,000 shares a day, and thus taking in between $5,000 and $8,000 a day in profits by means of commissions alone. Here is a gain of $125,000 or $200,000 a month.

This huge business was certainly built by Lilly's knowledge of human nature, his personality and his letters and circulars. Here is a sample of one of the latter:

CONFIDENCE, CASH, COURAGE.

The explanation why one man makes money in the market where another fails is a matter of confidence, cash, courage.

Confidence is an essential element of success—no man ever accomplished anything worth while who did not believe in himself, his task and the "eternal justice of things." Confidence is constructive; distrust is destructive.

Overconfidence, so-called, is not confidence at all, but egotism and lack of knowledge. The man who places his trust in tips or luck is not displaying confidence or overconfidence, but lack of judgment.

Moreover, confidence does not imply closing one's mind to unpleasant facts. We have the utmost confidence in the outcome of the war, but nevertheless we have not permitted ourselves to believe that it can be won with tin swords or snowballs. Money can be made in the purchase and sale of stocks, but one must buy good stocks and then not lost sight of the fact that there is a big difference between paper profits and actual profits, which are secured only by selling.

It is a well known fact that a very large percentage of business failures are greatly attributable to lack of capital. Many, if not most of the mining failures have been due not to lack of capital to put the mine on a producing basis. It took millions to make a mine of the great Utah copper, etc."

Not the old rough stuff or the get-rich-quick Wall street promoter of other years, but you will, of course, observe, but reasoned, deft approach to the gullible human mind.

This thing was sent out in October, 1917, soon after Lilly opened his own brokerage firm. It was followed by other such preach-

WE had a complaint today in regard to charging 20c for 25 pounds of ice; if this has been done it was a mistake on the part of the driver, as we do not want you to pay more than our schedule rate.

Twenty-five pounds of ice at 70 cents per 100 pounds would be 17½ cents, and the driver could probably not make change for this amount.

The driver should give you about thirty pounds for 20 cents. Let me suggest, therefore, coupons would be considerably cheaper, that coupons be used—this would make 25 pounds of ice cost you 16 2-3 cents.

We have delivered written instructions to our drivers to discontinue this practice and to give back even change, as near as possible, where 25 pounds of ice is necessary.

ments, each accompanied by stock lists, gossip of stocks and bonds, news of the trading world, what not? A regular weekly newspaper for the jeune stock buyer, asucker-tempter on a high scale.

I have said that these things got results. A profit of $5,000 a day and upward is very big money to an Oklahoma schoolmaster, or ought to be, But—

Detectives on Trail.

Again something happened. J. Frank Lilly alone can say what, and he is just now too busy dodging detectives to stop for revelations.

Apparently at least the profits from commissions, large as they should have been, either were not made or they did not come fast enough for Lilly, so he took to speculating on his own account. But let us waive that for the moment. Let us see how business grew for this man through the magic of his pen.

It was in September, 1917, he launched himself as an independent broker. In a few months a branch somewhat later second and third branches appeared in Park Row and in Fort-second street. By June, 1919, Lilly had 16,000 accounts on his books. These customers had no office was opened in Philadelphia.

neys ranging from $35 to $210,000 in this lachod's hands. He seemed to be at the very floodtide of success and felicity. Money was rolling in, business was surging upon him. The wife he had wearied of was quietly put away at a cost that must have seemed absurdly low. The woman he had desired was his. Happiness?

On one Saturday morning early in the summer—one of those over-paning for breath, Edwin P. Kilroe, assistant district attorney, waited in his office in the top story of the old criminal courts building, swinging back and forth in his chair and watching the door. He was plainly expecting a caller, one of some importance, for the attorney waited alone. The afternoon wore away. The caller did not come. Kilroe went home.

The next few days disclosed a great deal—a deal of disaster and ruin and dishonesty, but nothing of value among the ruins of the Lilly firm wherewith to pay the claims of 16,000 customers. It was found that these 16,000 unfortunate, among them about 12,000 women, had intrusted Lilly and his firm with about $1,500,000. All was gone. Except for some utterly worthless stocks and bonds and a few diamonds, on which evidently some deluded woman was trading there was nothing left.

Briefly, so far as can be told now, this is what the books disclosed: Lilly started honestly, but for some reason his income was not large enough. The swiftly grown Oklahoma schoolmaster began to trade on his own account and lost. Then, or so it seems, he began to dig into the stocks and bonds of his customers to cover his losses. He tried to retrieve and lost again. Now he abandoned all attempt at honesty. Instead of actually buying and selling stocks he began bucketing, meantime hypothe-cating the securities and using the moneys of his customers as fast as they came in. The crash was inevitable. Lilly seems to have prepared for it. But it came sooner than he had planned. His customers began to clamor for their money. He put them off with suavity and promises. Some grew suspicious and resorted to the district attorney. Kilroe summoned the trapped Lilly to explain. That was the signal for flight.

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadorsville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before. I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape."

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

Thedford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it. NC-124

If Mackensen and those 8,000 German officers are really in China, it only goes to show their excellent judgment. They got just as far from the American armies as it is possible for them to get without jumping into the ocean.

"THE LAIRD O' SKIBO"

Andrew Carnegie is dead. The dourest Highlander that ever came down the hills to Iverness has "slipped awa to the land o' the leal." He filled a vast space in the history of his adopted country and furnished forth a life-story stranger than any the hand of fiction has ever penned.

Born amid the braes of Dunfermline with the shadow of sores poverty resting on his cradle, he began life with no promise of what the future held in store. Acquiring no capital but thrift and industry, the crowning glories of his rugged race, he stood at life's starting point no better equipped for world conquest than a million others who fell and have been forgotten for half a hundred years. At the age of 12 he landed in America an unlettered laddie and burying himself in the basement of a murky factory he began his fight for fortune at 20 cents a day. Only one of ten thousand would have arisen from the iron grooves of that factory's limitations. But Andy was that one. He made difficulties the stepping stones over which he advanced to fortune. He seemed to carry a magic wand. Gold answered his call, and he died a multi-millionaire.

He stood at the very gates of opportunity. Along the lower reaches of the Allegheny and the Monongahela lay a vast forest but little touched by the hands of progress. Within and beneath those forests lay the cards with which he was to win the greatest industrial game of modern times. With the seer's uncanny vision he looked into the future and saw the black smoke of ever increasing factories darkening the skies. In fulfillment of his dream he lighted the mill fires of a new industrial era at the head of the Ohio and made the story of steel the marvel of the modern world.

Then as the shadows began to creep far eastward he dreamed again of his native hills. He dreamed the undying dream of Scotland. He longed for the lonely valley where the wild heather grows and the cold mountain peaks were MacGregor died. The Pibroch of Lochiel was sounding over the ocean calling him back to the gathering place of his clan. So turning away from the scene of his triumphs he hurried home to die. There amid the gorse and heather where the stern clans of Scotland stood for ages against a world in arms, where the Cameronians hurled defiance at a foreign king, and where the Covenanters still live in the glories of Bothwell Brig, the great Scotchman waited for the final summons. And when the Coronach rang through the halls of Skibo he "slipped awa to the land o' the leal."

And it will not reduce the cost of living to a minimum even if seventy-seven grand juries are called at an expense of a quarter million dollars.

"BORN AGAIN"

"Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God."

It's a great mystery.

Nobody has ever been able to explain it.

But there are "twice-born" men in every community—men who have been recreated, made into the image and likeness of God.

Men who were once under the influence of drink and depravity of every sort—but now they are sober and in their right minds.

Men who were once blind—but who now see.

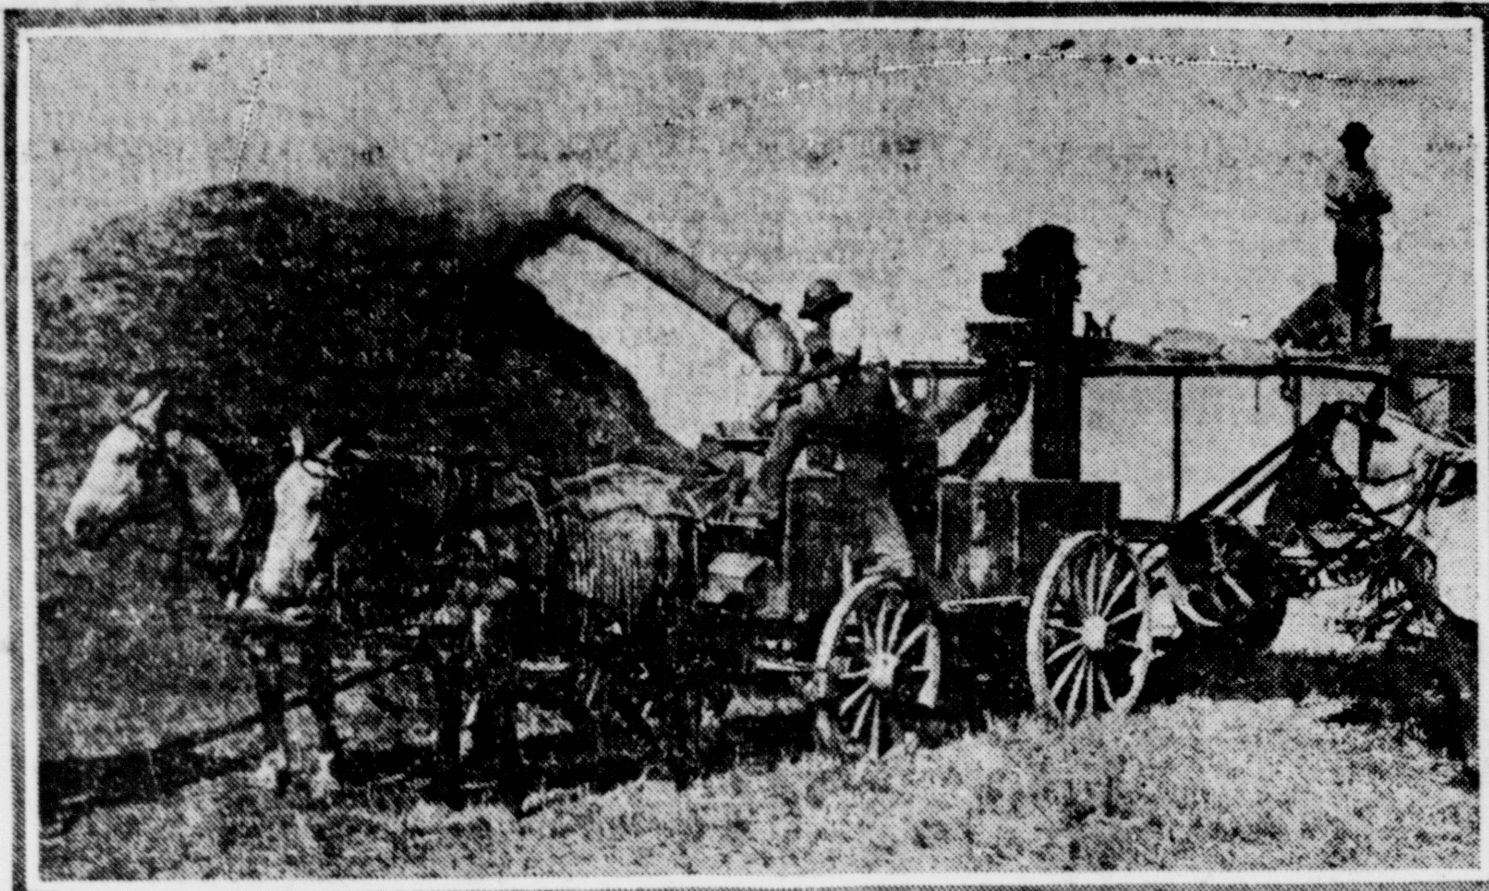

Men whose names were once disgraced because of their misdeeds, but who are now honored above many who always lived smugly and supremely above their fellows.

Thieves, harlot, murderers—"born again."

Cheats, liars, rough-necks—"born again."—Oklahoma News.

The old-fashioned banker who used to charge 40 per cent probably considers himself a piker nowadays when he looks over the price lists of almost any line of business.

ROBS VIRGIN MARY AND GETS BURNED AT STAKE

By the Associated Press
MEXICO CITY—(By Mail)—Details of the lynching of Juan Galvan, a prominent resident of the village of Zaragoza in the state of San Luis Potosi, have just been received in the capital and El Demócrata, in publishing the story, declares this is the first instance of lynching recorded in Mexico.

Galvan was publicly accused by the pastor of a church in Zaragoza of being the person who robbed the image of a virgin in one of the churches of gold and jewels valued at 10,000 pesos. The words of the curate inflamed his hearers, who dragged Galvan from his home, built a funeral pyre and upon it tortured the unfortunate man until he died. The curate has been detained by the authorities as the author of the crime.

Model "K"-44

The Buick Model K-Six-44

Buick Three-Passenger Roadster

THE BUICK Model K-Six-44 possesses marked advantages for the man or woman who wishes a car of limited passenger capacity, with an exceptionally roomy and comfortable driving compartment. This three-passenger model makes the most of these desirable features, without sacrificing one whit of the modish appearance that belongs to the type.

The body is distinctly a Buick creation, broadening out to accommodate a wide, deep seat for three, then curving in at the back to form a trim rear deck with a weatherproof carrying space for luggage.

The dimensions of the driving compartment insure easy entrance or exit from either side, with the control and brake levers well forward but within easy reach. The French pleated upholstery is built for long wear and comfort.

Inclined windshield, handsome improved top of high grade material, side curtains that swing open with the doors.

The Story of America's No Man's Land

WARNED TO NOT SEE OUR SOLDIERS

GERMAN GIRLS ALONG THE
RHINE URGED TO PASS
UP AMERICAN SOLDIERS.

By the Associated Press
WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES
IN GERMANY.—(By Mail).—Posters
written in German and warning German girls against associating with Americans appeared recently in several public places, in Coblenz and other towns on the Rhine, the girls being urged to refrain from making the acquaintance of soldiers regardless of the fact that the treaty of peace had been signed. At various times posters have been put up threatening indiscreet girls with punishment of one kind or another.
American officers who have investigated say the Germans are determined that girls who associate with the soldiers shall have their names known to the population and that several secret societies have been formed for that purpose. Intelligence officers say that on several occasions the names of girls who are on the records of the German police for associating with Americans have been read to the congregations at Sunday morning church services. In other villages the practice of posting the girl's names in public places was inaugurated some time ago.
The officers assert that blacklists of the girls' names have been prepared and are being kept for future use, after the Americans are gone.

HAWAIIAN SINGERS

The sweetest singing in the world is that of the real native Hawaiians.
There is no other music that catch the ear for beauty of tone, and for "heart quality." Hockwald's Hawaiians will open a three nights' engagement at the Liberty Theatre on Monday, August 18, in a concert of native Hawaiian and modern American music. Among the musical instruments introduced by this company of native artists, is the

Australia Hears Preparation For War Preaching

By the Associated Press
SIDNEY, Australia.—(By Mail).—
Admiral Viscount Jellicoe preached a policy of preparation for war in some of the speeches he delivered here while visiting Australia to inform the Australian government concerning matters of naval policy.
"When discussions take place on such subjects as the League of Nations or the question of limitation of armaments, I trust it will never be forgotten that the safety of the British Empire depends absolutely upon the safety of its sea communications," said Viscount Jellicoe at Sydney, where he addressed the Navy League. "Before the war, he said, "Great Britain suffered from a lack of sufficient ships to guard the long lines of communication between London and Australia," and he added, "it is up to the British Empire to see that we are never in want of sufficient protection afloat in the future."
Speaking of the "deadly risks run in the last five years," the Admiral said: "One can only hope that in the future sufficient provisions will be made both by the mother country and by the overseas dominions to insure the impossibility of defeat of the British navy."
After giving some information to show how long it took Great Britain to prepare for Germany's submarine campaign, Viscount Jellicoe said,
"The lesson I am trying to preach is preparation for war. I would like to say very seriously that it seems to me the conclusion is forced upon us that the British Empire depends now more, than ever upon naval supremacy."
Leaving Sydney early in July,
the Admiral started on a months'
tour to northern Australian ports and of the coast of New Guinea and adjacent islands.

"FIT TO WIN."

The American Theatre announces that it will soon present "Fit to Win." The Government motion picture which has played an all important part in protecting the men in the army from social diseases.
It is probable that a series of special performances will be given exclusively for women as well as for men.

Universal interest attaches to this feature picture owing to the fact that for the first time in the world's history, a government has deemed it necessary to educate and inform its citizens of that insidious social cancer—prostitution.

The story itself is replete with dramatic incident, human interest, love—and because of its essential realism—viciousness and dishonor receive the author's unbiased attention. As a satisfying drama, "Fit to Win" leaves nothing to be desired.

It is interesting to note that the picture has been officially viewed by representatives of the French and British Governments and was used by General Pershing in France and with our troops in Russia. Unqualified endorsement has been attended in every instance. The picture has been translated into Spanish.

The man or woman who sees "Fit to Win" cannot fail to be impressed by its sincerity and force.
Its message is not alone for the general public, but for the individual, ignorant of, or poorly informed regarding facts vital to his own well being. The world moves swiftly, and no more striking proof exists than the fact that the greatest government in the world has thrown down the gauntlet and openly challenged humanity's greatest plague.

"Fit to Win" graphically reveals the reason.

Custer's Indian Fighters to Meet at Wichita, Kans.

SIDNEY AND LONDON TO CONNECT BY AEROPLANE

By the Associated Press
SYDNEY, Australia.—(By Mail)
Survey of the route of the first section of the projected aerial service between Sydney and London was recently completed. The section extends from Sydney to Darwin, which is on the north coast of Australia and relatively near the Malayan Archipelago. The service will be carried on by a Sydney company.

From Darwin the route will cross the sea to the island of Timor, proceed along the Malayan Archipelago to India and thence run to Bagdad or Port Said—probably the latter.
From Port Said it will cross Europe to London. The survey of the second section of the route, from Darwin through Malaya to Delhi, is now going on.

It is expected that the first flight will be made within the next few months, and it is planned to have the proposed passenger and commercial services in full operation in about two years. If the company succeeds London will be reached regularly from here in 1-2 days.

The Sydney-Darwin section is 2,- 000 miles. But the survey party travelled about 4,000 miles in order to select the most satisfactory landing places or relay stations.

When the flights are in full swing business between Sydney and London will be greatly facilitated from the fact that letters may be answered within two weeks of their dispatch from here.

News for the Housewife at Preserving Time

Here is a recipe for preserving syrup that will give you finer jams, jellies and preserves—and save you about one-half your trouble.

Instead of all sugar use only one-half sugar and one-half Karo (Red Label).

You will find this means clear, firm jelly; rich preserves with heavy syrup; and delicious jams, mellow and "fruity".

Karo is a fine, clear syrup, with a natural affinity for the juices of the fruit.

It blends the sugar with the fruit juice—brings out all the "fruity" flavor.

Furthermore, it prevents even the richest jam or jelly from "candyng".

It does away with all the uncertainty of preserving, and just about cuts the work in half.

For cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

FREE A copy of the Corn Products Cook Book is all ready to send to you as soon as we receive your name and address. It contains any number of helps to the woman who expects to make preserves, jams or jellies.

The State Press

Ardmoreite: Probably that republican effort to adjourn the house of representatives for five weeks was intended as a "strategic retreat."

Muskogee Times Democrat: These revelations about brutal treatment of doughboy prisoners are going to make shoulder bars unpopular at political platforms.

Lawton Constitution: Presidential bees are again buzzing around looking for the entrance to the official hive. We suspect, however, that some of them are only humblers.

Ardmoreite: Republicans wanted to take a recess because it was too warm in Washington. But the people will make it still hotter for the G. O. P. if its representatives in congress don't get busy.

Healdton Herald: Now that Ada is large enough to boast a clairvoyant fortune-teller, she may expect to become more and more the center of attraction for those who want this "easy money."

Ardmoreite: Republican "investigations" are revealing some startling differences between the conduct of the Spanish-American war on a ration of emblamed beef and the winning of the world's greatest conflict on wholesome food.

Oklahoman: The fruit growers of the state are between the devil and the deep blue sea. They can't get sufficient ice to ship their fruit and if they had the ice they would find the railroad strikes a hindrance to shipping.

Oklahoma Democrat: Congress has been in session practically all the time since the armistice was signed last November. Most of its activities have been devoted toward prohibition enforcement and taking pot-shots at the administration. In the meantime prices of necessities have been soaring.

Durant Democrat: Ham-Ramsay are having a great meeting over at Ada. The evangelists are complaining of poor attention, less convictions, less spirit and less interest manifested than any revival they have ever conducted. We knew poor old Ada was a hard one, but we never dreamed that it had gone to this extent.

Oklahoma City Times: Ex-soldiers and ex-sailors who served in the world war should be interested in the American Legion's drive for membership here. A force to save the nation and humanity in war, those young men will be a greater asset for national strength in time of peace because of their war service. By organization they can use their strength to best advantage, and the public has every confidence that they will use it for the common good, as they gave their service in the war.

Congress Lays Down.

Never before in the history of this country has congress fallen down so completely and so flat on its duty as the congress now in session; and the republican majority of that congress, by reason of its abject failure to measure up to the emergency of the hour, stands utterly discredited before the country.

With the country confronted by the most menacing crisis, perhaps, in its history, and with the people prayerfully and fearfully looking to their representatives for measures of protection, congress figuratively throws up its hands in a confession of helplessness, turns to the President and says in effect: "It is up to you, Mr. President! You take the problem and solve it. We can't!"

That, in its last analysis, is precisely what the letter of the senate interstate commerce committee to the president amounts to.

Those men who hold majority sway in congress have vindictively and scurrilously lambasted and abused and berated the president for attempting to solve the peace treaty problems without consulting them.

And yet, they are the same men who, when suddenly confronted by

Another Nation-Wide Red Cross Drive Comes In Middle of November

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Plans for a nation-wide Red Cross campaign opening Monday, November 3, and closing Armistice Day, November 11, were formally announced tonight by Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the executive committee of the American Red Cross. The primary object of the campaign which will be known as the Third Red Cross Roll Call, will be to enroll members for 1920, but there will be in addition a general appeal or $15,000,000 to enable the organization to complete its war obligations at home and abroad. There will also be local appeals where necessary, conducted by the chapters, to secure funds needed by local chapters.

During the war there were two annual Red Cross campaigns, the War Fund Drive in the late spring and a Christmas Roll Call for membership. The only campaign this year will be the one in November and in succeeding years there will be only an annual Roll Call in which the Red Cross will seek the reaffirmance of allegiance of the American people expressed in dollar memberships. The money so derived will be used for American purposes and the approval thus received is to be regarded as a mandate to carry on future programs.

The first task of the American Red Cross is, of course, to complete its obligations to American soldiers and sailors," said Dr. Farrand in announcing the program. "The organization plans as its future policy to concentrate its efforts upon peace problems at home, unless America should again be involved in war or confronted by great disasters creating special emergencies.

"The Red Cross problems are primarily within the field of public health, and will aim particularly at co-operation with official activities, Federal, state and local. The Red Cross will not seek to duplicate the work of established organizations, but will endeavor to supplement other agencies where they already exist or to stimulate and organize work where none exists."

The tremendous task of the American Red Cross in the war has, however, left a continuing obligation which cannot be fulfilled for some months to come, Dr. Farrand stated. In an amendment to the Army Bill, congress has prolonged the responsibility of the Red Cross abroad by authorizing Secretary of War Baker, to transfer to the Red Cross such medical and surgical supplies and dietary foodstuffs now in Europe as is not needed by the army abroad or at home "to be used by the American Red Cross to relieve and supply the pressing needs of the countries involved in the late war."

Inventories of these supplies are now being made. To them will be added such other material as the American Red Cross itself has in Europe and these will be distributed in the countries where the organization is including its war relief work, and where, because of the ravages of war, famine and epidemic, the distress is most pronounced, as in the Balkans, Poland and other Eastern European countries. To meet these obligations and administer this foreign relief, the Red Cross must raise at this time a fund of $15,000,000, Dr. Farrand stated.

"The Red Cross authorities realize the astonishing generosity of one of the most portentous and acute domestic problems that was carried to an American congress for solution, lie down on the situation and seek to unload it upon the shoulders of the president!"

Then, to make the spectacle even more astounding, when the president asked for an assembling of congress to hear his presentation of the situation, there was an almost literal "burning up of the wires" in frantic efforts of the few leaders who were still on the job to call in enough congressional vacationists and seashore sojourners to constitute a quorum!—Atlanta Constitution.

the American people during the war and the present high cost of living at home might legitimately lead many to expect a release from further demands for assistance to other peoples," continued Dr. Farrand, "but we must remember that our allies were much harder hit by the war than we were and that we have incurred obligations to them which honor shall be discharged. In naming the sum of $15,000,000, the Red Cross has tried to determine the smallest amount which will enable it to round out its work and make effective the appropriation of army goods rather than to estimate the generosity of the American people."

"It is believed that the end of our foreign obligations is in sight, and, accordingly, the Red Cross is turning its chief energy and attention to the development of a clearly defined home program, which already includes systematic preparedness for Disaster Relief, a widespread Nursing Plan, continuing Home Service operations, First Aid instruction, and a Junior Red Cross program, all of which will depend for their success upon large and vigorous chapters. For these reasons, the enrollment of members is the chief purpose of the November campaign. It is the primary ambition of the American Red Cross to be of service to Americans."

"FIT TO WIN." The American Theatre, commencing Thursday and Friday, August 14-15, will show "Fit to Win." The picture was originally designed for exclusive use of the army and navy. So instant and widespread has been its success in military camps that the civilian population of the country has justly demanded an opportunity to witness the picture, which, with a single blow, shatters superstition, lies and hypocrisies regarding vice and social diseases.

The story combines vital medical facts with thrilling dramatic situations in the lives of its five main characters—young Americans called from widely different environments to the service of their country.

So frankly are their trials and experiences pictured that no one can doubt the consummate skill and the depth of human understanding revealed by the author and producer, Lieutenant E. H. Griffith, U. S. A.

Every true American man and woman will take deep and lasting pride in the fact that the United States is the first nation in the world to bring the light of truth to play upon a question affecting the lives and happiness of millions.

It is a significant fact that the motion picture has been chosen by the Government as the most suitable medium for revealing its great and human purpose to the vast American public. Tested and proven by the exacting demands of the army, "Fit to Win," stronger than ever in its human appeal, is ready for public presentation. It is now under the auspices of the United States Public Health Service and it is safe to predict that here as elsewhere the exclusive showings for men and women will draw capacity houses.

"Fit to Win," unquestionably the first picture of its kind in this, or any other country, records an epochal advance in the use of motion pictures, and in recording a Government's obligation splendidly fulfilled.

REV. HAM TALKS OF RICH YOUNG RULER

This morning the tabernacle audience was a most gratifying one to the management of the co-operative revival. Multitudes of men quit the stores, offices, banks and other places of business to give a portion of their time to the giver of every good and perfect gift. Evangelist Ham read the account of the model young man who came to Jesus inquiring what he must do to be saved, and got the reply of the Lord: "One thing thou lackest." A brief of his sermon follows.

"Let us see what this young man did not lack. He did not lack riches, position, a fine natural character, courage, boldness, courtesy, a clean record, a breadth of gauge, honor, morality, aspiration to live and frankness. But he wanted what he did not have—life. He was living, but knew that soon he must die and his body fall to dust. He craved more than animal life. Life is not just a good time. It is not just eating and drinking, dancing and sleeping. Life is far more than honor and riches. It is more than going into the great unknown and passing into dust. Jesus says that life is going up to the Father, and Paul says it is getting all the people saved you can."

"Your life is a failure indeed if it is to end at the graveyard. If life is no more than a sleep in the morning and dissolving vapour, it is scarcely what you yearn for. What will it profit a man if he gain the whole world and sacrifice his own soul, or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul? This man knew that riches were not life, and yet many of you are selling your youth for money and so grey hairs come, and wrinkles on your brow. He also knew that a good, moral character was not eternal life, and that admiration for Christ was not salvation."

"One thing he did lack. Money was his king and Jesus must be established in his place as master of his life. Every man has a master as every ship has a pilot and every locomotive an engineer. A man's master is what gets him up early in the morning and keeps him up late at night. The rich young ruler did not trust Jesus, but his gold. Some of you do the same thing. Will you hear me while I tell you that your only hope of eternal life lies in Jesus Christ. You lack one thing! Let Jesus be your master. Christ on the throne of your life gives assurance of everlasting life. This is the secret of highest success."

Several strong business men made surrender of their lives to the divine mastery of Christ.

THOSE BENIGHTED ADA BUSINESS MEN

The other day, according to press reports a number of business men of Ada, Okla., assembled and passed resolutions condemning the demand of the United Brotherhood and organized labor in general for asking an increase in the present wage scale. The resolution went on deploring the fact that should these increases be granted it would ruin the business of the country and criticized President Wilson for "listening to the demands."

We were surprised that a live, progressive city like Ada has the reputation to be, should still harbor men, supposedly business men, who yet harped on ideas long ago relegated to the rear. These men evidently are not aware they are the "hog-legs" used by the big wholesalers and speculators in food-stuffs to hold up the consumer. These men are we are sure, the "moss backs" that every live city is burdened with, more or less. In many places they are merely tolerated, but in Ada's case, they broke out again. They are a poor, misled, benighted set of men who still insist on paying the worker less than a living wage. If you go broke by paying a living wage to your employees for the Lord's sake, go broke now, and get out of the way of a bunch of live men who believe in that old saw, "live and let live."

Our sympathies are extended to the real business men and working men and women of fair Miss Ada—Oklahoma State Federation Labor.

CHICAGO ACTORS ON STRIKE MANY THEATERS ARE CLOSED

By the Associated Press
 CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Many Chicago theatres are expected to be dark tonight as a result of a meeting of actors early this morning, at which it was decided to strike. A start was made last night when Cort and Cohan's theatres were closed. Other houses are expected to close today.

We Thank You, Charles.
 C. W. Zorn of the Ada Seed and Feed Company's store, brought to the News office this afternoon a big basket of Elberta peaches. These were grown in this county and have a flavor superior to the Georgia peach. The man who said this is not a fruit country was about as near right as the man who said it is not a hot country. May Charles live a hundred years and repeat his feat of today a thousand times.

SENATORS FORGET CARES OF STATE ON LINKS

Even the busiest of men must have their recreation. All work and no play makes Jack a grouch, you know. Here is an interesting photograph of four prominent United States senators ready for a foursome on the links of the Chevy Chase Country Club in Washington, D. C. From left to right: Senator Newberry, of Michigan; Senator Harding of Ohio; Senator Freylinghuysen of New Jersey, and Senator Hale of Maine.

OBITUARY

The family and friends were sadly shocked on Thursday, the 7th of August, Nineteen Hundred and Nineteen, by the suddenness of the death, caused by heart failure, of a prominent citizen, Mr. R. T. Breedlove, of Tupelo.

The deceased was one of the early promoters of this city, and has been for many years one of its leading merchants, retiring in the later years to his farm one mile west of town. He was born in Jefferson City, Mo., March 25, 1865. He had been for some time a member of the Presbyterian church and a staunch adherent to the Masonic Lodge, being one of its oldest members at this place, and attaining Shriner's degree in that order.

He leaves a wife, five sons, and an adopted daughter to mourn his loss, to whom we extend our heartfelt sympathy and love.

The funeral services were held August 9th, being conducted at the home of the deceased by the Rev. Beck of the First Presbyterian Church of Ada. The services were very impressive, being filled with hope, inspiration, kindness, love, Biblical truths and especially suitable as the last tribute to a Masonic brother.

After the services at the home, the body was taken by the fellow Masons for ceremonial burial. Messrs. Jim Denton of Stonewall, Fatsy Greunon, Mr. Foster, Coalgate, W. M. Dunn, Clarita, and Clem Gibbons of Stonewall acted as pall bearers. Deputy Grand Master Manville of Ada conducted the services at the cemetery, where the Masonic Order paid its tribute to the dead through the signs and symbols of the Lodge. Messrs. McKoy of Stonewall and Mr. Shirley of Tupelo as deacons, Dr. Albert Cates as marshal at arms; Mr. Carnes of Stonewall, lightbearer; J. R. Grant, senior warden; Sam Cates, junior warden, Wesley Benton, tyler.

The grave was concealed by the floral offerings of friends and the Lodge brothers, among which were the symbolical cross, anchor and the harp.

The funeral procession was the largest ever witnessed in Tupelo, numerous friends from Coalgate, Stonewall, Clarita, Centrahoma, Lula and Tupelo followed the hearse to the resting place of the body of the dead. The only way to have a friend "Is to be one." May the high tribute paid to this brother. Though tragic in nature, death is sublime, inspirational, divine and greatest of all it forces us to remember that God is still in heaven with supreme power over all.

Ada friends have received word from Mr. C. J. Warren at Quanah, Texas enroute to Colorado Springs overland. Mr. Warren states that he and his family have been visiting his sister at Grandfield, Oklahoma. He also states that if the roads are any worse in France than they have been up until that junction of his tour he certainly does not want to be over there.

Let a Want Ad sell it for you.

Wholesalers asked the board to publish periodically their prices.

It is wonderful luck this ability to break away from the humidity of the lowlands and summer amid the frosts of the highlands. "SWAMPLAND LIVER PILLS"

Take them for the liver. It is the germ-laden condition of the blood which produces heart failure, consumption, diabetes, Bright's disease, rheumatism, asthma and other malignant diseases. Often this poisonous matter becomes localized, that is, the impurities find lodgment in some particular spot; thus we have abscesses, carbuncles, boils, cancers, tumor and other forms of abnormal growth.

The liver becomes sluggish and fails to perform its functions which accounts for the congested condition of stomach and bowels.

"SWAMPLAND" Liver Pills act directly upon the liver, stimulating the flow of bile, thereby causing regular and copious evacuation.

The virtue of SWAMPLAND LIVER PILLS is too well known to require any lengthy statement.
